Rash Of Burglaries Hits Elba Area

RANSACKED DRAWERS were found in the home of Elkin Williamson after a burglary Monday afternoon.

A series of burglaries have hit the Elba area in the past two weeks and the crimes have both the Elba City Police and the Coffee County Sheriff's Dept. putting in many long hours of investigation.

The wave of burglaries started back on Saturday, Nov. 21, when someone broke into the gymnasium and bandroom at Zion Chapel High. Entry to the gym was gained by knocking a lock off a door; however, nothing was found missing. At the bandroom, a rock was thrown through a window, enabling the burglar to reach in and unlatch a window. A lock on an office door was then torn off, where an AM-FM stereo cassette unit valued at $300 was taken, along with two money bags containing $30 in cash. The sheriff's department is investigating the burglary, but no arrests have been made in the case.

On Tuesday night, Nov. 24, burglars broke into the office of Dr. B.A. Santa Rosa and stole 12 bottles of Talwin, a high potency narcotic drug used as a pain killer. A rear window in the front office was found open, giving police a possible point of entry; however, no pry marks were found on the casing. The burglar(s) broke into desks in the front office and searched through all the cabinets in the lab, where the drugs were stored. Other drugs in the room were left untouched, and no other rooms were broken into. The drug stolen could be fatal if mixed with another drug, and a warning was issued by the doctor. The case is being investigated by the Elba Police Department.

Also under investigation by the Elba Police is a burglary that took place on Wednesday night, Nov. 25, at the Little Super convenience store on Smith Avenue. Between $350 and $400 was taken from a cash register.

On Monday, Nov. 30, the home of Elkin Williamson was burglarized, with over $2,500 in goods taken. Entry was gained by prying open a back door. The burglary took place during the daylight hours. Items reported stolen included three shotguns, a .22 rifle and jewelry, including a ring valued at $1000. The home is located on Highway 189 North, and the case is being investigated by the sheriff's department.

OPEN FILE drawers and an overturned trash can were two remnants of a burglary last week at the office of Dr. B.A. Santa Rosa. A window behind the copier was found open—a possible point of entry.

THIS BROKEN window was the result of a rock thrown by burglars at the Zion Chapel bandroom. An expensive stereo unit was taken in the burglary.

Osburn Attends Chicago Education Meeting

By NITA LACKEY
John Osburn, Elba City School Superintendent, is one of three Alabama education representatives who were recently asked to attend a meeting/workshop in Chicago. The federal board of education asked each state to send three representatives to the workshop November 18, 19, and 20. The purpose of this gathering was to assist the Department of Education in writing regulations by which to administer the new laws which have been passed in the last year; and address federal aid to education, according to Osburn.

The Department specifically asked each state to send one person from the state department of education, and two local school district administrators to the meeting. The other two Alabama representatives sent were Dr. Kenneth Blankenship, assistant director of administration and finance in the state department of education, and Leo Brown, coordinator of federal programs with the Mobile County school system.

The 150 administrators broke up into small groups on Wednesday, Nov. 18, and worked within those small groups until mid-morning Friday, making suggestions to be submitted in writing to the Department of Education, according to Osburn.

Historically, regulations which govern federal aid to education have been extensive, very detailed, and, in many cases, very restrictive, Osburn said. "It appears to be the current administration's philosophy to remove many of the constraints and restrictions surrounding federal programs, and provide for the decision making process to be conducted at the state level, and primarily at the local level," Osburn said. "Our efforts while in Chicago were directed toward providing input to the Department of Education officials and attorneys in developing non-binding regulations," he added.

"I was very impressed by the fact that this was a working meeting," Osburn said. No time was wasted because the large group was broken down; the time was well utilized, he said.

"I was gratified with the state department of education's decision to include a representative from a smaller school system, such as Elba, as well as one from a larger system, to provide a diversity of viewpoints," Osburn said.

The product of this meeting should become effective July 1, 1982, when the new fiscal year begins for the Department of Education.

GOODMAN SCHOOL received a shot in the arm last week when Superintendent Johnny Vaughan received a $10,000 check earmarked to purchase books for the library. Presenting the check on behalf of Governor Fob James and the State of Alabama was Representative Jimmy Holley and Senator Wallace Miller. Shown in the above photo with the legislators and the superintendent are the trustees of Goodman School. Pictured from left to right are: Holley, Mr. Jimmy Clark, Vaughan, Miller, Mrs. Carol Hamilton and Mr. Duri Anderson.

KINSTON AND KINSTON SCHOOL received financial help from the State of Alabama last week when a check for $6,000 was presented to Kinston mayor Heflin Smith. Presenting the check on behalf of Governor Fob James was Senator Wallace Miller and Representative Jimmy Holley. The funds were earmarked as follows: $2,000 for the Kinston school library and $1,000 for the Kinston band (uniform fund); $1,000 for the Kinston Rescue Squad, and the last $1,000 was for the Kinston general fund to be used as the city officials see fit. Above are Mayor Smith, Miller, Superintendent Johnny Vaughan and Holley. The crowd of 200 parents and students on hand for the occasion enjoyed music with a live band and a covered dish supper.

Legislature Passes Coffee County Sales Tax Bill

The Alabama Legislature took until the final day of the special session of the law making body to approve a bill allowing a vote of the people on a one cent sales tax in Coffee County.

The revenue from the tax will be used to build or renovate jails and courthouses in Coffee County, with the county commissioners having the authority to earmark a portion of the revenue for the three school systems in the county.

The bill as passed Monday allows construction of a jail and a new courthouse in Enterprise, and also for the renovation of the Elba courthouse and the Elba jail. It also allows for building one centrally located jail or judicial building. (Indications are that this would be in neither Elba nor Enterprise.) A third option is to use the funds to build one new courthouse and jail wherever designated by the voters.

Local Chamber Of Commerce Elects Officers

Officers for the newly formed Elba Chamber of Commerce were elected last Wednesday at a meeting of the board of directors. Named to serve as president was Attorney Merrill Shirley. Serving with Shirley will be Bobby King, first vice president and program chairman; second vice president and membership chairman—Jimmy Wise; secretary, Mark Vaughan; treasurer, Clayton Hickman; ex officio vice president, Tom Maddox (in the future the outgoing president will fill this position). Jimmy Hornsby was named chairman of the board of directors.

The County Commission will have the option of scheduling another vote on this matter within 12 months if it fails the first time around.

The first vote on this local bill will probably be during the statewide constitutional amendment election of March 2.

The Coffee County Commission unanimously approved a resolution last week asking the legislative delegation to introduce legislation allowing Coffee County to construct one centrally located jail and/or judicial building. The earliest this could be done would be during the January 1982 regular session of the Alabama Legislature. If this were done and hastily passed both houses of the Legislature, it also could be voted on during the March election. Since it would apparently be a constitutional amendment, this bill would require a statewide vote.

Local Chamber Of Commerce Elects Officers

To establish staggered terms of office for the board of directors, the members who were elected two weeks ago each drew numbers from a hat to determine the length of the first terms. Hereafter each term will be for three years.

The newly elected officers met Monday morning to work out a recommendation on dues and other details of the operation. Shirley told the board members last Wednesday that he would report back with recommendations before the middle of December with a target of being in full operation by January 1.

AG Okays Expense Account For Probate Judge

Alabama Attorney General Charles Graddick ruled last Friday it is legal for Probate Judge James Sawyer to draw the $450 expense allowance drawn by the county commissioners. The request for the ruling followed a front-page editorial in this newspaper pointing out the bill placing Sawyer on a salary was exactly the same as one in Blount County that Graddick had ruled was all the judge was entitled to receive.

However, the attorney general pointed out, in the Coffee County case, a 1977 law passed a year later than the salary bill allowed the expense money, and that the judge was therefore entitled to receive such money.

When asked in a press conference Tuesday if he had drawn the expense money from the time he went on salary and until the bill was passed, Sawyer stated he had gotten the money every month; therefore, there is a short period of time from the time he first started drawing a salary and until the expense bill was passed that he drew some money not authorized. But it is a far cry from the amount it could have been if the Coffee County situation had been the same as that in Blount County.

When making the announcement of Sawyer the ruling Tuesday, Sawyer said the question on his expense money was politically motivated, but he was happy to clear up the matter and clear his name.

Sawyer pointed out that if he was out to get all the money he could from the county he could have been drawing five cents a name for drawing the poll list for the 24 elections held since he took office. He said this totaled $21,722.25, but he had no intention of filing a claim.

Parade Set For Saturday

The annual Christmas parade will be held in Elba on Saturday of this week. It is set for 2 p.m., and the route will be the same as in past years.

Ole Santa will be the highlight of the parade, which will include bands from Elba, Kinston, New Brockton and Zion

Union Calls Off Dorsey Strike

Dorsey Trailers was notified by Local 1769, International Association of Machinists Union, that it called off its strike, in its fifth week, against the company. The local union notified all striking employees to report for work on Tuesday morning, Dec. 1, 1981, although an agreement had not been reached at the time.

Company General Manager Sam Collier stated: "The company's position on all open issues remains firm. We expect and hope the union will ultimately agree to the company's proposals and sign the contract as proposed."

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

Last week the folks at Goodman School were complaining loudly about the influx of flies in the school building. We discounted their complaints, thinking that they should be accustomed to an occasional fly or two in a building such as a school house, and have fly swatters handy. Well, on Wednesday morning we were in the school and immediately were greeted by principal Nelson Whitehurst and Superintendent Johnny Vaughan, but they were not waiting on the newspaper editor, but someone from the health department. That school was wrapped up with flies and thousands more were outside on windows, etc., waiting their turn to get in out of the cool weather. It turned out that the little pests had moved from some nearby animal pens hunting warm air and a good spraying of the area solved the problem. They didn't have to use those fly swatters we recommended.

Probate Judge James Sawyer was feeling good Tuesday when he announced receipt of the attorney general's ruling on his expense account. He didn't much want to talk about the period between the salary bill and the expense bill of 1977 which wasn't very long anyway. He did stress his efforts to do the right thing all the time and blamed all the static on "politics." I guess he has the right to loudly issue his sigh of relief after our front page news article several weeks ago challenging his right to take the $450 each month.

We heard a loud sigh of relief around Elba when the word got out that striking union members were going back to work at the local Dorsey Trailer plant. Not only were there a lot of folks missing checks right here at Christmas time, which would mean a short Christmas for parents and children alike, but a lot of merchants were missing sales because of the postponement of holiday as well as normal purchases. The shouting may be premature, as no contract has been signed, but for now as "common folks" will assume it will work out.

The City of Elba is shooting for a new police chief by next Monday at the council meeting. The meeting is set for 8 p.m., but we suggested that since it was December 7th, they meet at 7 a.m. to properly commemorate Pearl Harbor Day, but City Clerk Jack Prescott decided his 24 years of military service was enough of fighting a war for him, and the time is still at 8 p.m. We don't have a list of all those who have applied for the job, nor do we know the qualifications of some we have heard have applied. However, we know enough to feel sure the Elba city officials have more than one qualified applicant for the position of police chief.

This newspaper and other representatives of the news media continue to hear rumors from the Coffee County Pensions and Securities. The P & S Board has held several meetings recently that were closed to the public and the news media, and no announcements have been made, therefore we are unable to publish anything about the matter (or matters) discussed in the executive session. We have been assured that when or if any action is taken that is of interest to the public, we will immediately be informed. Our readers can be assured that we will report this matter when there is anything to report.

Last Wednesday while at Goodman Jr. High, we were reading some Thanksgiving essays written by the students. Enjoying the outdoors and having once been a young boy myself, one really caught our eye, and in just a few words recorded all the dreams a young man can compile in one day. On Thanksgiving Day this young man was going to get up at 4:30, go deer hunting, kill two deer, come home, dress, cook and eat the deer. Then he was going to Lake Eufaula and catch a 15 pound bass. With that small feat behind him, he planned to then find a game room and shoot some pinball and pool. Our young dreamer would then end the day by finding a good looking girl and having a good time. An unconfirmed report from the school this week indicates Billy Joe's dreams were not fulfilled this Thanksgiving.

We now have an option to vote on a one cent sales tax in Coffee County. It will be for the purpose of building a courthouse and jail—either one of each in Elba and Enterprise, or a courthouse in each city plus a central jail and/or judicial building, or even one jail and one courthouse. It is possible some of the money could be used for the schools, if the commissioners approve. Also, if the first vote fails, we could be allowed to vote on the same matter within 12 months. If that doesn't confuse your well educated brain, just add in the circuit court suit on an Enterprise jail and join us in total confusion.

BLEED THROUGH

Success Or Failure

By CANDY BERRY

Success is not an accident. It is the result of careful plans and hard work. Many parents today are frightened by the news headlines. Hardly a day goes by without some news of teens in trouble. What happened? Did these young people "go bad" in their teen years? Or are their failures the lack of concern which their parents have shown during the years since they were little children?

A child's life is a building project. The parent is the builder. He is following the Master Architect's plans in building a life-or is he failing to follow those plans. A life built on God's plans cannot fail. The only path it can follow leads to success, for God's plans do not include failure.

If you want to have a successful life, you must work carefully to build with the building blocks of character. God has provided these building blocks in His Word, the Bible. It's up to you to use them.

Remember, though, you cannot build a building without a foundation. Before you can start to lay up these building blocks of character, you must be sure that you have laid a foundation which will not crumble or fall.

Some people try to build a life on morality. This is good, but not enough. Others try to have a good education, but this is not enough. Others have the finest job security. That is worthwhile, too. But is it not enough?

There is one foundation alone, safe enough on which to build a life. The following 12 Value Building Blocks will help you construct your new life.

THE TWELVE VALUE BUILDING BLOCKS
1. CONVICTION
2. DEDICATION

3. REVERENCE
4. KINDNESS
5. HONESTY
6. SELF-CONTROL
7. COURAGE
8. HUMILITY
9. GRATITUDE
10. FRIENDLINESS
11. COMPASSION
12. PERSISTENCE

Good Majorette Season

The Elba Marching Tiger majorettes have completed an exceptionally good season. They received superior ratings at each marching contest the band attended. In addition to these accomplishments, at Enterprise and Birmingham, the majorettes were named "Best in Class" for having the highest score in their division. At the Heart of Dixie twirling camp at Auburn University the majorettes received a trophy for being one of the most outstanding majorette groups, and they placed first in the Elba Twirling Contest.

This has truly been a successful year, not only for the majorettes, but for the entire band. Each provided excellent halftime entertainment at every Elba ballgame.

After she graduates from high school, Cydra plans to attend Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce, Fla. Cydra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Johnson.

Teacher Learns From Students' Experiences

By MELISSA NORMAN
Mr. Charles Amos not only teaches at Elba High School—he learns. Before he began educating Elba High School students 12 years ago, Mr. Amos completed his own high school education in Enterprise, Mr. Amos later earned his undergraduate degree from Troy State University, and his graduate degree from Auburn University in Montgomery. He is presently in his third year at James Law Institute in Montgomery.

Education is not the only means by which Mr. Amos prepared himself to teach. Before he became a teacher, he worked for a contractor at Fort Rucker, and was in the Air Force. He says that these positions helped him to become a better teacher, mainly by giving him a better understanding of how to work with different types of people.

During his years at Elba High School, Mr. Amos has taught several different classes. Currently he is teaching business law, United States history, and seventh grade mathematics. In past years, he has taught algebra, psychology, world history, and eighth grade mathematics. He says, "I hope that the classes I teach give the students an understanding of their past and a working knowledge of how our country works today."

Band Ornament Sale A Success

When the Elba High Band decided to sell Christmas ornaments for a money making project, Lisa Powell developed the idea of having a Christmas tree filled with ornaments purchased by merchants from the City of Elba. Time was going to be a major factor because there were only three days to sell and one of those was on Sunday.

Lulu discussed the project with Mayor Bob English and was given permission to place the tree in City Hall. Candy Berry offered her assistance and the idea was becoming a reality. Saturday night did not dampen any spirits and by the end of the sale, 73 different merchants had bought ornaments.

Selling was only the beginning, money had to be collected and business cards were attached to each ornament. A tree was furnished by Harco Drugs and a table was supplied by Skinners. Everything was ready and the tree was decorated.

Candy and Lulu thank everyone involved in helping to make this project a success, and they invite everyone to visit the city hall and see Elba's first Commercial Christmas Tree. A few ornaments that were ordered were not sold so if a merchant or business-man was not contacted and wishes to place an ornament on the tree, he may inquire at City Hall or call Lulu at 897-0864.

Special VICA Meeting Held

November 19

By NANCY LINDSEY
Reporter

Due to the cancellation of the next two regular VICA meetings because of the forthcoming holidays, a special meeting was called for Thursday, Nov. 19.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Velt Brewer, and the officers performed the opening ceremony before the discussion of the business. The following is an outline of that meeting:

1. The Elba Jaycees had asked the club to place an entry in the full uniform, ride in a car.

2. Candidates for Mr. and Miss VICA, 1981-82, were nominated and voted on. Todd English and Melinda Bane were selected to hold these positions.

3. Local and District contests were discussed and all members were urged to select a competition to enter among the many that are available.

4. Vice-president, Todd English, told the club of the officers' trip to the VICA conference that was held in Montgomery. He explained what the weekend consisted of and what the officers felt that they had received from attending such activities.

5. A refreshment committee and a fund raising committee were formed before the close of the meeting. These committees will be functioning for the remainder of the year.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for January, or until a special meeting is called by either the president or the club sponsor.

WANDA JOHNSON

Roundballers Camp

By KIM WHITMAN

Wanda Johnson, a senior at Elba High School, attended the Joe Clampe Basketball Camp for Girls held on the campus of Auburn University from July 10 to 14.

The camp was designed to improve a player's overall game and her attitude toward the game itself. During the camp, Wanda had five instructors: Angie Hannah, Rene Holbrook, Beth Bryant, Lori Monroe, and Becky Jackson. They drilled her on offensive and defensive fundamentals, such as ball handling, rebounding and shooting the ball.

Mrs. Debbie Carille, EHS girls basketball coach, stated that Wanda has vastly improved over the three years she has coached her. Mrs. Carille went on to say that Wanda was one of her best players this year and she could be counted on to score when points are needed at a crucial time.

Marriage Preparation Emphasized

By LISA TAYLOR

The family living class has been studying preparation for marriage. As part of their study, Mrs. Phyllis Johnson, county health nurse, visited the class two days. On the first day, she showed a film entitled "Methods of Birth Control." She had a display of all the different types of birth control devices. She emphasized the advantages and disadvantages of each method. On the second day, she discussed sexually transmitted diseases. She informed the class about the types, the symptoms and the treatment of the different diseases.

Mrs. Johnson stressed the fact that if anyone suspects they might have a disease they should get medical attention immediately. She reminded the students that the County Health Office is open to teenagers who need help.

English III Class Writes Term Papers

By DONNA FOLEY
Reporter

Many frustrated English III students are concluding their term papers this week in anticipation of getting the final draft typed.

English III class members are required to write a five to ten page term paper on the subjects of their choice. Each paper had to have at least three different kinds of sources of information.

The rough draft was due last week and the final copy had to be turned in no later than November 30.

Each student was given a copy of the criteria upon which his or her grade will be based.

Researching and writing a term paper is a requirement for high school graduation in the State of Alabama.

Basketball Players' Nicknames

By ALISON MADDOX

I compared the way they acted to one of the comic strip characters I could think of. Some of the boys reminded me of certain animals, while others reminded me of certain people.

College Aid Available

By DENISE LOTT

Thinking about going to college after high school? If you are, you know that a college education costs money, and a lot of it! Most colleges have financial aid officers who will help find the funds for people considering college, but who don't have the money.

If you are planning to go to college and want financial aid, be sure to get your request in early and always meet deadlines. Many students who have been eligible for aid have missed their chance because applications were not in on time.

At most schools you fill out just one application for financial aid. College financial aid officers will help you fill out the application and include each of the basic kinds of aid offered.

Here are some ways to get money for college: Grants: These are gifts and do not have to be repaid. Grants are given primarily according to need, but there are some minimum academic requirements that have to be met in order to get such aid.

Scholarships: These are also gifts that do not have to be repaid. Check with your high school counselor to get a list of scholarships you might apply for.

Loans: These must be repaid. There are some long-term, low-interest loans that you don't have to start repaying until six months after you are no longer a half-time student. Many loans that are available to

Two of our major Christmas tree producers in the county, Ralph Sharpless and Jack Wise of Elba, are all set to supply a lot of high-quality trees beginning this week. ROSETTA BROWN

By NITA LACKY

Rosetta Brown is a very quiet, good natured lady who participates in all the nursing home programs, according to Nickie Junigut, nursing home activities coordinator. Mrs. Brown especially enjoys quilting, as well as the fellowship with other residents. She really enjoys living in the nursing home, and said, "The food is good."

The Joy Sunday School class of Westside Baptist Church has adopted Rosetta as their grandmother. Members of the class visit her and bring her gifts. "By the big smile on her face it is evident she enjoys their visits," Ms. Junigut said.

Rosetta has also been adopted by Mrs. Catherine Waters, a nurse aide at the nursing home. Rosetta doesn't have many relatives still living. She has an older sister, Mrs. Louise King, who now lives in Opp. Rosetta lived with her in Enterprise until she moved to the nursing home. Rosetta also has a niece in Opp, Martha Rodgers.

Rosetta was born in Coffee County on March 24, 1923, and grew up in Elba. Later in life she moved to Nook, N.J., where she lived for nine years. Upon returning to Coffee County-Enterprise she lived with her mother until her mother's death.

Rosetta is able to walk with aid of a walker. She does especially well with it when she goes out. Mrs. Waters said, she loves the outings with Mrs. Waters. Rosetta has a strong incentive to do her best with her walker.

Rosetta is a very friendly, loving person, and would cherish any moments that any visitor might have to spend with her. She has a lot of warmth to give if anyone can spare a few moments to visit her.

What a peculiar situation! We are an abundant producer of food. In fact, peanut producers are being cut back in the amount of peanuts they can get for a support price for. At the same time, we hear that approximately half of the people in the world are poorly fed.

Committees covering major areas of emphasis in crop production, livestock production, home economics, 4-H Club work and community development will plan in detail some educational programs for the new year.

Mrs. Myrna Rhodes of Elba will preside at the dinner meeting gets underway at 6:00 o'clock in the Community Room.

What a peculiar situation! We are an abundant producer of food. In fact, peanut producers are being cut back in the amount of peanuts they can get for a support price for. At the same time, we hear that approximately half of the people in the world are poorly fed.

Why can't we produce more and sell to these countries? We can't because we have so many problems in our farm income in this country and take care of food shortages elsewhere.

FRESH TREES
Two of our major Christmas tree producers in the county, Ralph Sharpless and Jack Wise of Elba, all set to supply a lot of high-quality trees beginning this week. Sharpless will have only a limited number of Virginia pine Christmas trees for sale this time as his plantation is younger than Wise's.

Jack and Larry Wise will have several hundred trees for sale to the public. I understand that individuals can go to their farm now on the Elba-Samson Highway and select trees. Last year I bought a tree from Jack Wise a day or two before the middle of December. We put the tree up and kept it watered. That beautiful tree was just about as fresh when we threw it outside the first day of January as it was when we put it up.

If you want the finest in natural Christmas trees, you can't beat the trees being grown by Ralph Sharpless and Jack and Larry Wise. Other growers are coming into the business. Perhaps next year a number of growers will have trees for sale.

SPECIAL MEETING
Dykes Addition of the Fairview Community and Frank Britt of Mt. Pleasant and other local leaders in the Alabama Peanut Producers Association are urging growers to attend the annual meeting on December 11.

Historically, the annual meeting has been held in Dothan. This year, however, to accommodate more people and other local leaders in the Elba-Samson Highway area, the meeting will be held at the 1981 annual meeting. All peanut producers in this county are eligible to attend and participate. The program will begin at 1:30 o'clock on Friday, Dec. 11. The program this year will emphasize national promotion, export program, breakdown of the 1981 budget and re-

ROSETTA BROWN

By NITA LACKEY

Rosetta Brown is a very quiet, good natured lady who participates in all the nursing home programs, according to Nickie Jimright, nursing home activities coordinator.

Mrs. Brown especially enjoys quilting, as well as the fellowship with other residents. She really enjoys her visits," Mrs. Jimright said.

Rosetta has also been adopted by Mrs. Catherine Waters, a nurse's aide at the nursing home. Rosetta at- tends the Shady Grove Church twice a month with Mrs. Waters. One of Rosetta's favorite parts of the church service is the singing of the children's choir, she said. Rosetta loves to hear their young voices blend together to make beautiful music.

Mrs. Waters also takes Rosetta to her home to spend time with her grand-children-Rosetta has no children or grandchildren of her own.

"She loves my grandchildren as if they were her own children," Mrs. Waters said. She loves the children, and would cherish any moments that any visitor might have to spend with her. She has a lot of warmth to give if anyone can spare a few moments to visit her.

Rosetta is able to walk with aid of a walker. She does especially well with it when she goes out. Mrs. Waters said she loves the children, and would cherish any moments that any visitor might have to spend with her. She has a lot of warmth to give if anyone can spare a few moments to visit her.

VIEWS FROM THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz

The Elba High basketball team finally swings into action this week and I'm anxious to see how Coach Mickey Cannon and his troops look. The Tigers lost 3 starters off last year's squad that posted a winning season, but have two good players back in Ted Horstead and Bobby Guiley, and a combination of youth and desire from the new players that could lead to another fine season. This year's team will be short, as always, but has some good leapers and more than its share of quickness, which could balance things out. Coach Cannon, in his first year at the Elba helm, is a firm believer in fundamentals and has worked his team for almost 4 weeks trying to make them a solid, well-disciplined squad that will be able to compete in this very competitive area.

I may be wrong, but I think it's going to be a good season at Elba High and I urge everyone to come out and watch the Tigers play. If you don't like it, then don't come back, but at least give 'em a chance and come to one of the games. You might just become a fan!

I went down to Mobile last week for the holiday and got a chance to see some top-notch high school talent in the "Tournament of Champions," an 8 team event featuring four local teams along with teams from Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana. All of the out-of-town teams were highly rated and all boasted all-American players and fine records. The Florida entry was Cape Coral High, featuring 6-8 Curtis Kitchens, who averaged 20 points and 16 rebounds a game last season, while the Georgia entry was Bainbridge, led by 6-3 all-American LaRae Davis and 6-9 Raleigh Choice. Davis, considered one of the top guards in the South, scored over 40 points in four games last season and hit 28 in the first half in a semifinal win during the tourney. Gulfport High, from Mississippi, went 35-5 last season and their head coach had a career record of 647 wins and 117 losses! The Louisiana representative was Carroll High, of Monroe, led by 7-0 Benoit Benjamin, a unanimous selection on every all-American list. Carroll, who weighs 240 pounds, isn't an intimidating player, but has a good 15-foot shot and gets a bunch of rebounds! Despite all the outside talent, Blount High of Mobile placed first, followed in order by LeFlore, Carroll, Cape Coral, Bainbridge, Gulfport, Davidson and Williamson. All the teams played 3 games in the tourney and it was something to see.

The local basketball scene is off to an interesting start and it looks like Kinston may very well be one of the top teams in this area, in any class! Coach Pete Kelley's Bulldogs are tough, quick and deadly shots and on any given night can beat anybody they play. Kinston has a big game this week against Brantley, led by 6-9 Chuck Person, and the winner will emerge as the early season pick in Region 2. The only team with a shot at knocking off these two teams looks like Dozier, who stunned New Brocton last week on the road. Dozier has more athletes than any 1A team in the state and Alvin Daniels, a 6-4 guard, may be the sleeper in the state as a college player. Daniels is a super athlete and can play either football or basketball at any college in the nation. Don't be surprised if he leads his team to state.

In 2A New Brocton is wireless after three games, but has dropped all three games in the closing minutes and two of the losses came to 4A schools. Don't count Brocton out just yet, or they could make you eat your words! Other schools in 2A to watch will be Headland, Geneva, and Hartford.

Up in 3A, my early pick would have to be Andalusia. The Bulldogs looked good in a tip-off tourney and have both height and speed, a deadly combination! Brundidge is new in the area and could challenge for the crown, while other teams to watch are Opp, Troy, Bullock County and Eufaula.

Among the big boys in 4A, Dothan seems to be an even money bet to make a strong run at a trip to state. The Tigers have everybody back from last season's team and have shown in early season action the power to win big. Selma will be tough, as usual, while other teams worth keeping an eye on include Ozark, Northview and Robert E. Lee.

I watched the Alabama-Auburn game on TV (like millions of other people) and while the game was exciting, it wasn't exactly well played. Both teams made more than enough mistakes to lose a game, or even two games, but it all added up to quite a game and it was enough to give even a dead man a heart attack. Alabama showed its class by scoring twice in the final stanza to win and even the Auburn fans had to admit the comeback was expected. Auburn showed a lot of desire by playing a super game and they hit as hard as any team I have ever seen! Coach Dye has turned the program around in only one season and despite their 5-6 record the Auburn team was far from being losers. With all the young players on both teams, this game should be better than ever next year!

The high school football season is still going on for 8 teams, but for the rest it's all over and the annual game of musical chairs has already started for many coaches. So far, coaches have resigned at Abbeville, Alex City, McGill-Toolen and Bay Minette, and if rumors I've heard are correct, there will be a lot more in the immediate area. I won't even mention the schools involved, but my sources are pretty reliable and I expect to confirm them soon. As I do, I'll pass 'em along.

I am not much of a fisherman and I'm no hunter at all, so there was no way I could even pretend to write a column on either sport. However, Ronny Shiver is active in both fields and in the weeks to come he'll pass along his adventures and expertise to you in his column named "Sportsman's Corner." If you have any outdoor activities you'd like everyone to know

PAGE 13 about or if you've had any hunting success let Ronny know, he will be glad to hear from you!

This week will mark the end of my pigskin predictions for yet another year, and once again I had a lucky year. Next week Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator will yield to Dr. Jim Nasium, a noted hardwood surgeon, who will pass along his weekly rankings in all classes of high school ball in South Alabama.

Now, here's how I see the final week of the playoffs:

McKenzie vs. Hazlewood

The Tigers finished second last season in Class A and hope history doesn't repeat. However, those Yanks from North Alabama may be a little too strong. Once again a bridesmaid!

Hazlewood 28 McKenzie 19

Dadeville vs. Stevenson

All I know about Dadeville is that New Brocton beat 'em in basketball last season, while all I know about Stevenson is they whipped up on a girl named Susan Moore last week. I'll go with the bullies!

Stevenson 28 Dadeville 7

Eufaula vs. Hartselle

Eufaula just keeps on winning and their coach says they're not that good, they just refuse to lose! Hartselle finished second to Troy last year and want to win all the marbles this time around. It looks like quite a game.

Hartselle 17 Eufaula 10

Northview vs. Carver

Northview has a good defensive team and has proven it can beat strong opponents by beating Enterprise, Murphy, Foley and Jeff Davis. Carver is also tough on defense and this one looks like a low scoring battle!

Northview 13 Carver 6

Tigers Open Season Friday

The Elba Tigers swing into basketball action tomorrow night (Friday) when they host the Zion Chapel Rebels at the Tiger gym in the renewal of a county rivalry. The B game will start at 6 p.m., with the varsity contest to start at 7:15.

Elba was scheduled to open the season back on November 24 against Arton, but the game was postponed because Arton was in the state football playoffs. The Tigers' next game was set for December 1, against Luverne; however, it too had to be postponed when Luverne advanced in the grid playoffs. No makeup dates have been announced.

"I feel like we're behind due to the postponed games," said Elba's Coach Mickey Cannon on Monday, "and I don't really know what to expect Friday night. The first game's being postponed didn't really hurt because it gave us extra time to practice, but the second postponement was a big disappointment to the kids. This is our fourth week of practice and everyone is ready to get started. I am anxious to see what we will look like in a game situation. I can watch other folks play and see what they're doing, but when I watch us I just can't tell. I'm ready to get the season started."

"We've got in all our offense and defense," added Cannon. "Now it's just a matter of getting everything lined up. We are still working on fundamentals, and most of our practices are going good. We didn't get to practice last week because of work being done on the floor, and I hope we didn't forget what we had learned. This week we will worry about ourselves and try to smooth out our rough spots. We'll keep on working on fundamentals and work on situations that might arise during a game. I don't know much about Zion Chapel, but I do know Elba, and if we get our plans down and hustle, we'll give it a shot come Friday night."

Following are brief descriptions of the 1981-82 Elba Tiger basketball team:

Sportman's Corner

By Ronny Shiver

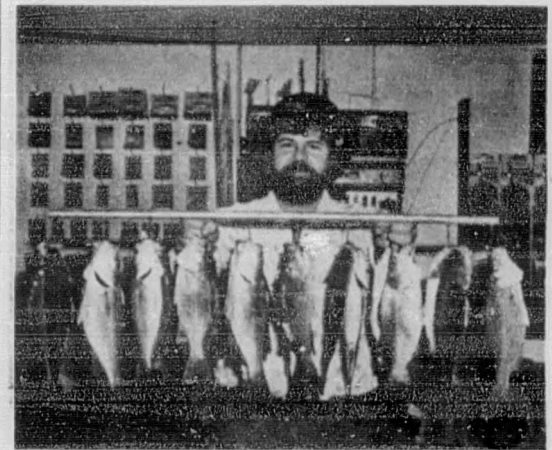

Sunday I went down to check out the newest hot spot for fishermen in the Elba area - "the funtime fishin' hole," located on Highway 189 South at the Sand and Gravel pits.

The new establishment is a man-made pond that measures 150' by 70'. It varies in depth from 5' to 6' and the beauty of it is that there are no stumps to get hung up on! The pond contains an average of 7500 catfish which range from one to three pounds, and are replaced when 1000 to 1500 are caught out.

There is also a pond where the small fish are raised, up to fishing size. These are kept in 4 x 4 x 4 baskets that are attached to a floating pier. There is an average of 500 catfish, from five to eight inches long in these baskets, and they are fed until they reach 3/4 to 1 lb.

The grower now contains 20,500 fingerling catfish. The owners told me they had a good turnout for the opening last Saturday, and a lot of fish were caught. It costs $1.00 per pound to fish, with no time limit. For 20 cents per pound, they will clean your catch - or if you don't have time to fish, you may purchase live fish - or dressed fish for $1.90 per pound. So, if you're craving some fast fishing and good eating, try the new "funtime fishin' hole" on the Kinston Highway, two miles south of Elba.

From all the talk I've heard so far I would rate the figure - deer - 32, hunters - 11. "Y'all gonna have to take better aim." With the upcoming holidays there will be a lot of traffic on the road and a lot of hunters in the woods. So be very careful not to make it the last holiday for someone's son or daughter.

If you're considering going to Westpoint Lake in the near future, better get prepared. You'll need some mud waders, a shallow water boat and maybe a couple of push poles to get around a ditch.

I was up at Westpoint the weekend of Thanksgiving, and the lake looked real bad. According to the Corps of Engineers officer I spoke with, the lake is between 25 and 30 feet below normal. Our tape measure showed 27 1/2 feet from the water line to the water surface on the public pier.

If the water stays down long enough next spring for growth to form on the now exposed parts of the lake, the fishing should once again be excellent. The locals say it is pretty good now - if you can launch your boat. On our tour around the lake, we found only about three public ramps that weren't out of the water. The only other places are the old road beds that are usually under water.

But there is some good news - Alabama Power Company is in the process of beginning a new fishermen's heaven. They are building another dam near Wedowee, Alabama, which should back water up to form a lake near the size of Westpoint. The projected finish date is three to four years ahead, and will probably be the new "hot spot" in the Southeast. The dam will be located on the Little Tallapoosa River near Wedowee, Alabama, on Highway 431.

Thanksgiving Day, Bill Walden and I took a couple of youngsters fishing at Gantt Lake. The bassin' was slow, but we lucked up on a school of striped bass, commonly called Stripers. The Striper is a hybrid bass with broken line stripes on the side and a small mouth. They get big and fight like a bull. The ones we caught were from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pounds. When we hit the school, we boated 20 fish in 30 minutes - now that's hot fishing. Look for striped fishing to grow in the near future. (Fish - 3; fishermen - 20).

Elba Lady Tigers

Fall To Luverne

The Elba Lady Tigers hit the road Monday night to tangle with Luverne and came home stinging from a lopsided 58-28 defeat.

Elba came out ready to play and gave Luverne a battle in the first quarter, but couldn't keep up with the speedy Luverne girls, and by the half had fallen behind 25-10. The Lady Tigers had their best quarter of the game in the third stanza and matched Luverne bucket for ELBA's Patricia Daniels (pictured in early season action) scored 11 points in the loss to Luverne.

New Hope Cats Claw Brockton

The New Hope Wildcats upped their record to 3-0 last week with an exciting 39-33 win over the New Brockton Gamecocks, in New Brockton.

New Hope opened the game in a press and jumped into an early 14-4 lead, but began to get in foul trouble in the second quarter and were unable to add to their lead. New Brockton rallied to pull within three points late in the game; however, the Wildcats went into a delay and converted crucial free-throws down the stretch to hold on for the win.

Lynor Duncan scored 13 points to lead New Hope, while Frankie Downing added 12. Also scoring were Marlin Jackson 6, Greg Flowers 4, Dennis Evans 2

ZION CHAPEL's Jeff Senn (32) puts up a driving, left-handed layup in the Rebels' season opening loss to Long.

Rebels Drop Cage

Opener To Long

The Zion Chapel Rebels opened the 1981-82 basketball season on a losing note Monday night when they fell to the Long High Rebels 68-52, at Zion Chapel. The Rebels took an early 9-4 lead over Long behind the shooting of Jeff Senn and seemed ready to pull away, but Long battled back and took the lead late in the first quarter 18-17. A last-second shot by Daniel Sanders put Zion back on top 19-18 at the end of the stanza; however, it would be the Rebels' final lead of the game. Long High began to get its running game on track in the second quarter and the visitors pulled into a 35-28 halftime lead.

Zion Chapel pulled within 37-34 early in the third quarter, but Long ripped off five unanswered points to take a 52-34 bulge and began to slowly pull away. Long's lead grew to 52-38 early in the final stanza and they rolled easily to claim the win 68-52.

Jeff Senn and Walter Adair scored 17 and 15 points to lead Zion Chapel, while Long's Sid McLeod led all scorers with 23.

Hazlewood, which won a Class A crown in 1970 and a 2A championship in 1975, will go for another in Class A against McKenzie, the runner-up last year. Both teams are 12-1. Hazlewood has outscored its three playoff foes 104-24 while McKenzie has allowed more than one touchdown in only one game.

Northview, 12-1, and Carver of Birmingham, 11-2, are both making second appearances in the Class 4A playoffs. Northview has scored 10 or more points in every game while Carver, a wild card team, has posted seven shutouts including two in the playoffs.
